

2018 SPRING CHALLENGE

Did you see the 2018 Spring Free Project? If not, go to our website <http://www.quarterconnection.com/> click on Events, and then Free Project. Completing that project will qualify for the Spring Challenge.

What else will qualify? Let's try something different. The Spring Free Project uses a color palette something like this:

Of course, we see colors differently on our screens, but the concept is the same ... pinks/mauves/blues.

So how does this color palette work with the challenge? You need to use these (or similar) colors to complete a room, vignette or other scene. Maybe you'll finish a bedroom or living room with these colors? Or a kitchen? A blue room with pink flowers? Think about it! OH! A nursery when we don't know if the baby's boy or a girl? So many options. If you don't have a room in mind right now, you could finish a bedroom set and dress the bed in these colors.

How to participate?

Easy! Post a picture of your project in the 2018 Spring Free Project Album on our Groups.io site. The Challenge ends June 30, so get your picture posted by then. Be sure your picture has your name on it!

Yes, the Spring Free Project qualifies for OMB, and any project completed for the challenge qualifies for OMB if it meets the other OMB Rules. If you're doing your project for the Challenge AND for OMB, your pictures must be in both albums.

Prizes? Of course!

Need some inspiration? Take a look at these!

